Bitter Fighting Marks Battle for Leyte Island

Japanese Face Annihilation in Ormoc Area

24th Division Cuts Highway

By MURLIN SPENCER

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, PHILIPPINES, Thursday, Nov. 14. (P)—Two units of the American Twenty-fourth division "practically severed the Ormoc road" behind a trapped Japanese regiment as the battle for Leyte island flamed with bitter fighting today.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that the infantrymen in a double envelopment move thrust behind the Japanese near Limon, American-held village four miles south of Carigara bay.

Battle near Limon

The main body of the Twenty-fourth division engaged units of the Japanese First division in head-on combat on the road near Limon, which stands at the gateway to Ormoc corridor.

Some thirty miles southward, the United States Seventh division "fiercely repulsed a Japanese counterattack at Balogo, ten miles south of Ormoc on the coastal road."

This means the Seventh has advanced four miles northward in its drive to apply the southern lever of the American squeeze against Ormoc, Japan's last port on the island. These Yank forces smashed Japanese landing attempt Tuesday at Daulana, fourteen miles south of Ormoc.

The third arm of the American pincers, pushing westward through the mountains, closed tighter as elements of the First cavalry division seized on the hill positions near several enemy strong points.

Forward elements of the Twenty-fourth division's two outflanking units were reported close to the Ormoc road late yesterday. The unit swung around to the west, then turned southeast toward the road. The force moved in from the east and pushed west.

Jap Forces Cut Off

This difficult maneuver cut off Japanese forces estimated at a regiment's strength—possibly 2,000 men.

The Nipponese were fighting bitterly, however, and showed no signs of withdrawing.

The unit of the Twenty-fourth division along the road were reported to have made slight advances over great piles of Japanese dead.

The Japanese counterthrust at Balogo was on a comparatively small scale, but the Nipponese losses in the action were estimated at fifty per cent of the force employed.

Dismounted cavalrymen, driving westward from Jaro, overran numerous scattered Japanese ridge positions to seize Mt. Mamban, a 3,830-foot height, and hills known as numbers 4047 and 4018.

The cavalrymen are closing in on the road some distance below the trap made by the Twenty-fourth division.

Cigaret Output To Be Increased

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15. (P)—The government moved today to make more cigarettes available in the future by increasing 1945 production of cigarettes.

The War Food Administration said farmers will be permitted next year to plant three per cent more tobacco and two per cent more flue-cured tobacco—principal types used in cigarettes.

Reduced stocks of tobacco, coupled with large overseas military and lend-lease demands and increased domestic demand were "to be factors in the present cigarette shortage. Other factors," officials said, include shortages of labor for cigarette manufacture and of shipping containers as well as consumer hoarding.

$100 Ties Placed on Sale in West, But OPA Knows Only of $50 Style

By JACKSON ELLIOTT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (P)—If Aunt Emmy sends along the usual "this Christmas, resplendent with shining does or some such, you may want to wear the price tag where the stick pin goes."

She may have set Aunt Emmy back a hundred skins.

OPA said today it had "heard" that $100 ties were being offered for sale in elegant west coast establishments. These gay draperies, the OPA said, are hand-painted with "fancy females in various stages of dress."

Presumably there are other motifs. Aunt Emmy wouldn't let that kind.

OPA hasn't put a dollar and a cent on such articles for the reasons that (1) nothing comparable was on the market when the ceilings went into effect, and (2) nobody has been able to decide whether these hand-painted jobs are

WARNS FRANCO

AN ULTIMATUM to Gen. Francisco Franco of Spain to retire from office "or take the responsibility for the consequences" has been given by Miguel Maura (above), a leading Spanish Republican, now in exile.

The statement followed a conference between Maura and Jose Antonio de Sanjurjo, Franco's ambassador to France.

Jersey Strikers Agree To Return To B-29 Plants

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15. (P)—

Union officials bowed to a War Labor Board demand today and agreed to call off strikes holding up production of B-29 Superfortress engines in five New Jersey plants.

Talking like a "Dutch uncle" to the officers and attorneys for the Wright Aircraft Supervision Association, an independent union, Chairman William H. Davis of the WLB said the strike must be called off or the government would use "every power" to stop it. He also said work must be resumed before the WLB would consider the foremen's complaints.

The strike, begun Monday, involved only part of the 2,900 superfortress employees. Their walkout, however, resulted in idleness for more than 32,000 employees of five Wright Aeronautical Corporation plants in the Paterson area.

Attorney John P. Butler, speaking for the union, said a return to work "at once" meant starting with the midnight shift, but industrial relations manager Ivan L. Willis said it probably would be impossible to get the Superfort motors back in production before the 8 a. m. shift.

Without referring to the need for engines for the world's largest bombers, in use over Japan and on long range raids of Pacific outposts, Davis said the strike had cost the foremen the sympathy of the public at a time when the board, alone among government agencies, was "trying to help the foremen."

Following an unauthorized strike which ended Oct. 4 at the board's request, a panel has been studying the union's grievances and has reported findings to the board for its consideration.

50-Inch Snowfall In South Dakota

RAPID CITY, S. D., Nov. 15. (P)—

Snowfall that ranged up to fifty inches was reported today from the Black Hills area of South Dakota after a two-day period of snowing and blowing.

The report came from the official weather bureau sub-station at Spearfish. Deadwood claimed a thirty-inch fall, and in the Sturgis area some drifts twenty-five feet were reported.

Red Army Frees 50 Communities As Nazis Flee

Russians Increase Pace of Assaults

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, Thursday, Nov. 16. (P)—The Red army, increasing the pace of its assaults aimed toward Budapest, seized the fortress city of Jaszbereny and more than fifty other Hungarian communities yesterday as the Germans fell back in hard-fighting retreats along a 100-mile front stretching from southeast of the capital to the area of Miskolc.

Jaszbereny, a strategic railway center thirty-five miles east of Budapest, fell to a combination by-passing maneuver and direct frontal assault, Moscow announced this morning.

Germans Fight Hard

"Having concentrated in this area large force of infantry and tanks, the Germans offered stiff resistance," said the Moscow war bulletin. "The enemy repeatedly tried to throw back our attacking units. However, the Hitlerites' counterattacks had no success."

The Russians began to outflank the city on the northeast, and when the Germans extended themselves to meet this threat, the attackers speared straight into the town and took it in fierce street fighting.

Besides this biggest prize of the day, the Russians recorded other gains right along the line from the railway town of Mende, only twelve miles southeast of Budapest, up to Korom and a group of other communities nesting ten miles below the North Hungarian center of Miskolc.

Altogether 570 German and Hungarian prisoners were taken during the day, Moscow reported.

Nazis Announce Withdrawal

The Germans themselves announced withdrawal from Jaszbereny before its occupation was listed in the Soviet night communique.

The general nature of the German withdrawal was hinted at in a Berlin broadcast by the military commentator Ernst von Hammer, who said, "east of Budapest German troops, behind a curtain of steel from the fire of hundreds of our guns, have disengaged themselves toward prepared positions to economize their forces."

Gyomro, only ten miles southeast of Budapest on the Szolnok-Budapest railway, as "the western pivot of our defense system," and acknowledged that Soviet shock troops already were beating against it.

Garrison Surrendered

The German announcer said the garrison at Jaszbereny had been surrounded Tuesday and had to force its way back to a new line in a series of fierce counterattacks, adding that "this resulted in the necessity to abandon the blazing ruins of the town under protection of a rainy night."

The commentator communique, however, said Jaszbereny fell in combat, rather than by evacuation, and Moscow dispatches said the skies were clear today, permitting the Red army force to renew its strong attacks on the receding Hungarian front.

18 Corporations Are Accused of Boosting Prices

torney General Biddle announced that eighteen steel corporations and six of their officers were indicted in Trenton, N. J., today on charges of conspiring to fix prices on stainless steel.

Biddle said the grand jury indictment charged that beginning in 1934 and continuing until the present the defendants and co-conspirators have engaged in an unlawful conspiracy arbitrarily to fix and maintain uniform and non-competitive prices, terms and conditions for the sale of stainless steel finished products sold in the United States.

Heavy Penalty Provided

Conviction would involve a maximum penalty of $5,000 fine and one year imprisonment in each of two antitrust charges, Biddle said.

Named as defendants were: Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp. of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Russell M. Allen, Pittsburgh, vice president; Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. of Pittsburgh, and Paul F. Voight, Jr., Pittsburgh, manager, stainless steel division; Carpenter Steel Co., Reading, Pa., and J. Heber Parker, Reading, president.

French Advance Four Miles on Doubs River

By ROBERT C. WILSON

WITH THE SIXTH ARMY GROUP IN FRANCE, Nov. 15. (P)—The First French army of Gen. Jean De Lattre De Tassigny launched an attack today on a twenty-five-mile front covering both banks of the Doubs river on the approaches to the Belfort Gap and scored advances of four to five miles.

Moroccan, Algerian and Senegalese troops reinforced by the PFI, smashed forward through the snow and seized ten villages and were taking several hundred prisoners.

A heavy artillery barrage opened the assault, which reached all its local objectives including the village of Arcy, eleven miles southwest of Belfort and five west of Montbeliard.

At places the infantry broke through the enemy's forward defenses for as much as five miles. Villages were taken on both sides of the Doubs. Arcy, on the main highway from Besancon to Belfort, was the principal prize. But strung out in a southeasterly line behind it Tassigny's troops took Gemonval, Marvelise, Onans, Bretigny, Montenois and Lougres, all north of the river, and Ecot, Vermondans and Eucurey, all south of the river in the area of Pont-De-Roide.

Known Nationally as Champion of American Farmer

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Nov. 15. (P)—Smith W. Brookhart, for eight years United States senator from Iowa and long one of the foremost champions of the American farmer, died today in Arizona where he had retired because of failing health in 1943.

After the death last Dec. 30 of Mrs. Brookhart he became a patient at the United States Veterans hospital in Whipple, near here, but his condition did not become critical until a few hours before the end. He was 75 years old.

Burial services will be held in Washington, Iowa, the old family home where Mrs. Brookhart was buried.

Two Women Slain In Los Angeles; Suspect Quizzed

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15. (P)—Horribly mutilated, the nude bodies of two women were found in separate downtown hotels today, and tonight police said they had obtained a confession from Otto Steve Wilson, 31, whom they arrested while slipping wine in a nearby bar.

Det. Lt. J. Hurst said Wilson at first denied any connection with the killings but later broke down and admitted he had slain both women.

Suspect Handcuffed

Patrolman H. E. Donlan recognized Wilson from a description furnished by hotel employees. Without a word of warning he walked behind Wilson and slipped handcuffs on him.

Wilson was booked at central jail on suspicion of murder but was held incommunicado.

The first victim found was Virgie Lee Griffin, 25, sprawled on a bed, she had been slashed from neck to abdomen. Her right leg had been severed at the knee and hip, the right shoulder amputated, and flesh had been hacked away from other parts of the body.

"This is the most fiendish crime in my nineteen years of experience here," said police Detective Lieutenant Harry Hansen. It is worse than the Winnie Ruth Judd case."

Large Knife Used

A knife with a nine-inch blade, and several razor blades had been used, Hanson said.

Shortly afterward the nude body of Lillian Johnson, about 38, also was found stretched out on a bed in another hotel, a few blocks away.

Hotel employees said she had registered a few hours earlier with a man.

Hanson said Miss Johnson frequently had been seen in bars near the hotel. When found, she wore only her shoes and stockings.

Detective Lt. Harry Hansen said Wilson, who had been arrested before on charges of attempted rape, had been identified by fingerprints as the slayer of both women.

Wilson Identified

The detective also quoted employees at the hotels as identifying Wilson as the man who had registered with the women.

Police Inspector Bruce Clark, chief of detectives, said files revealed Miss Johnson had a long police record, involving arrests at Oakland, Sacramento, Sallinas, San Jose and San Francisco, Calif., Salem, Ore., and Milwaukee, Wis. Most of them involved check charges. There also was one sanity allegation and many aliases had been used.

He had registered with Wilson at the hotel as Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Wilson, Hansen said, while Wilson had registered at the other hotel with Miss Griffin as Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Wilson of Steubenville, Ind.

It seemed clear, however, that the policy would affect Argentine and Eire as well as Spain. It left at least four other countries—Sweden, Switzerland, Portugal and Turkey—up in the air.

Jones Urges Farmers To Maintain Output

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15. (P)—Choosing to risk surpluses rather than shortages, War Food Administrator Marvin Jones asked today that farmers maintain their 1945 production as near this year's record level as possible.

ORDER HIS ARREST

THE FRENCH MINISTRY of the Interior has ordered the arrest of Henry, Count of Paris, 36-year-old pretender to the French throne, following a report that he was wounded on French soil. A law passed in 1888 forbids any claimant to the throne to live in France. All police prefects in the country have been informed of the warrant for the Count's arrest.

German Decree Maps Plan for Guerrilla War

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

LONDON, Nov. 15. (P)—A significant new step in the Nazification of the backs-to-the-wall German army—with the apparent intent of making it a "never-surrender" force to fight on as guerrillas after defeat—was announced today by Berlin.

A new decree ordered all German officers and noncoms who are members of the Nazi party to "educate their men in the Nazi philosophy" both on duty and off "in order to form a closer link-up between the armed force and the party."

Previously members of the German army were required to leave the party during their period of armed service.

Himmler Behind Move

The new decree did not bear the signature of Heinrich Himmler. But an authority on Germany—a German—was quoted tonight by the British Press Association as expressing conviction that the man behind this move was Himmler, homefront commander-in-chief and the man rumored in some quarters to have superseded the mysteriously-secluded and silent Adolf Hitler as number one.

Close students of Germany here interpreted today's decree as the most important in a Nazi campaign begun some months ago to adapt the German army to the Nazi pattern of fanatic resistance which would continue, as Hitler once put it, "past twelve o'clock—in the hills and underground."

This pattern began last spring when the Nazis created a national Socialist officers' leadership group, attaching political commissars to all army units, with the purpose of indoctrinating the army to desperate resistance.

Flying Robbers Coming: Crime Soon Will Take to the Air, National Aviation Clinic Hears

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 15. (P)—Delegates to the second National Aviation Clinic heard today that crime soon would take to the air and that state control of flying would be needed to curb it.

The statement was made by Sheldon B. Steers, director of the Michigan board of aeronautics, as he defended the question of state control as against federal control before Oklahoma and more than 1,000 aviation figures from over the nation. An opposing view was presented by John H. Frederick, professor of transportation and industry at the University of Texas, who told the assembly that "state laws and regulations (pertaining to flying) are not only unnecessary but unenforceable."

The question appeared likely to be the most controversial taken up at the four-day convention.

"The police authorities of late," Steers said, "have been fully aware that soon crime will take to the air."

"I mean the modern bank robber, bandit, etc., are going ultra modern and with hundreds of thousands of our citizens possessing flying ability, why shouldn't they?"

Law enforcement agencies, he said must have access to complete registration records on pilots, aircraft, and airports and that source of information must be close by—far closer than Washington.

Frederick argued that "uniformity of law and regulation as to civil air transportation is essential to the orderly development of efficient and safe use of the air."

"That uniformity," he continued, "can only be secured by controls and regulations by the federal government."

Doughboys Close In on Fortress On Three Sides

Major Bastions Are Neutralized

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Paris, Nov. 15. (P)—American doughboys by-passed blood: Port Driant today and boiled in close to the suburbs of Metz from three sides, clamping the great fortress city in a death grip, while in the north British troops drove five miles through the boglands of Eastern Holland to within thirty-seven miles of the key German industrial center of Duisburg.

Both Fort Driant and Fort Jeanne d'Arc—two of the nine major bastions ringing Metz—were neutralized by Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Ninety-fifth division, which captured two smaller forts, Hubert and Jussey, as it smashed toward the outskirts of the city from the west.

Port Driant, fourteen miles north of Metz and just south of Thionville also was stormed and its Nazi garrison killed or captured.

Driant's Guns Silent

Driant's guns, which barked spasmodically yesterday when the Yanks began pushing past it on the north, were silent today, suggesting that the Germans had abandoned the mighty mile-and-a-half-long structure on the west bank of the Moselle river as they previously had evacuated Forts l'Yser and l'Aisme after only small arms resistance.

Due south of Metz the American Fifth division inched forward to within little more than a mile of the city, the imminent loss of the most determined counterattacks the Nazis raised since Patton's forces opened their winter assault eight days ago.

Peltre, two and a half miles southeast of Metz, was cleared of the enemy, and German counterattacks were beaten off along nearby Pouilly ridge, from which American guns command the enemy's main escape route from Metz eastward to the Saar frontier.

German Armor Halted

The Germans, employing their first substantial force of armor since the American attack began, also struck back vigorously against Patton's Eightieth infantry division south of Remilly forest, southeast of Metz, but the Yanks stopped them cold and pushed within four miles of the city of Falkenberg (Pfalzgraben), which is only ten miles from the German border.

Possibly preparing the German people for the imminent loss of Metz, Capt. Ludwig Sertorius, leading Nazi military commentator, observed that the famous fortress city "represents only an outer position, for holding of which one does not wage decisive battle but engages only a smaller amount of forces—just enough to force the enemy to strong war and fear of destruction."

Pope Scores Nazis For Warsaw Conduct

(By The Associated Press)

Pope Pius XII denounced the Nazis for their brutal subjugation of Warsaw in a statement issued yesterday (Wednesday), the British radio reported in a broadcast recorded last night by NBC.

The Pope was quoted as stating, "whoever feels the smallest spark of humanity and justice cannot help but be astounded and appalled by the Germans' conduct in the Polish capital. He added that Warsaw's citizens had suffered 'indescribable physical and moral hardships' and that women and children in the city were in need of immediate help."

Deer Park Workman Suffers Leg Injury

Stanley Sharpless, 42, Deer Park, was admitted to Memorial hospital Tuesday evening suffering from a badly injured right leg as a result of an accident in the State Roads Commission garage at Deer Park Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Sharpless, attaches were told, was welding a part on a conveyor at the garage when the oil distribution truck drove into the garage and pinned him between the truck fender and the garage wall.

The exact injuries had not been determined last evening.

Janet Stuck, 2, of 121 Virginia avenue, was treated in Memorial hospital yesterday at 7:30 p. m. for a lacerated forehead. Attaches were told the child fell out of the car in which she was riding and struck her head against the running board of the car.

The 158,000,000 life insurance policies and certificates in force today, averaging over five per family, represent an increase of 18,000,000 over those in force at the war's outbreak.

Bureaucratic Work Baffles Justice

WHEN the courts throw up their hands and dismiss cases in consequence of the baffling intricacies of bureaucratic regulations, it would seem that something should be done about such regulations, granting the need for them as a wartime essential. Because of near-chaotic conditions in the magistrates' courts of New York City, where OPA cases were heard along with the usual docket of misdemeanors and felonies, a new court has been set up there to handle the OPA cases exclusively, known as the War Emergency court. Things went along smoothly at its first session until Magistrate Charles E. Ramsgate attempted to unravel an OPA order concerning ceiling prices on chicken.

A defendant who specializes in selling poultry in part was accused of posting on the whole bird a sign asking seventy-seven cents a pound for breasts of chicken as against a ceiling price of fifty-nine cents a pound.

After almost an hour of testimony, during which defendant, prosecution and court became more and more snarled in the involved phraseology of an OPA order which directs in the closest technical detail how breast of chicken must be served from the whole fowl, Magistrate Ramsgate threw up his hands in dismay.

"I am getting into a worse mix-up here," he declared. "I don't care if a chicken is dissected or bisected to the right or out along the bias to the left. The guy who made this up must be the same one who makes up the income tax forms." Whereupon he dismissed the case.

Thus is justice perverted by the time-killing notions of bureaucrats who, if fewer in number with more work in hand, might be able to formulate regulations with some sense to them.

Good Cheer Season Is Now at Hand

THE HOLIDAY SPIRIT seems unusually prevalent this year. It provides relief from the strain of war news and promotes the desire to contribute good will and happiness.

So it is not surprising that before Thanksgiving downtown Cumberland is crowded with eager shoppers. The Christmas shopping crowds are inspiring. The delight of children who expect at every moment to be confronted by Santa Claus, warms the hearts of adults who have lost many of their illusions, but still retain a modified faith in the essential goodness of mankind.

Nothing else in the complexity of modern life which tends in some aspects to foster skepticism and defensive watchfulness—compares with the charity and good fellowship of the Christmas season. Many charitable agencies that have proved worthy are given aid by those who have saved pennies and dollars for Christmas spending.

But it should be mentioned again that early shopping is wise. It helps those in business, harassed by wartime shortage and personnel, to plan better service, it gives shoppers opportunities for making selections and it is considerate of those who patiently assist from behind the counters.

How Long Can the Germans Hold Out?

THE QUESTION now foremost in the minds of Allied military observers is how much longer will the German people persist in a fight against increasingly overwhelming odds. The German cause is lost, viewed from any angle. Germany's life blood is being squeezed out between great pinners, closing in from the east, the west, from Italy and the Balkans. Sacrifice of human life is passing all records in history, with Germany paying the heaviest toll.

Between May and November of this year Germany has suffered more than 2,000,000 casualties. No nation, however powerful at the outset, can stand such a drain on its manpower. These figures are supplemental to the millions killed, wounded or captured during previous months of the war. As the Allies continue to increase the pressure from all directions, German losses are certain to exceed even those of the six-months period just reported.

To perpetuate the Nazi regime for a few weeks or months, Hitler is calling upon the German people to stand against an overwhelming and relentless foe. They are asked to see their remaining manpower killed, their women and children freeze and starve through another terrible winter. It is a terrible price to pay and it is hard to understand why the Germans continue to pay it.

The Russian Course As Viewed by Cassidy

A WORLD-INFLUENCING SWING toward conservatism in Russian government and economics is likely to be the result of Joseph Stalin's realizing that he has much more to do than there is time left in his life in which to do it. Henry C. Cassidy, renowned chief of the Moscow bureau of the Associated Press, expresses this opinion in an article "The Clock Runs Out On Stalin," in the November 18 Saturday Evening Post.

The author, considered one of the world's ablest authorities on current Russian affairs, made history earlier in the war with his letter to Stalin which brought a reply for publication in which the marshal called upon the Allies to open a second front.

The AP chief remarks that Stalin, who will be 61 December 21, has lately referred to the diminishing time in which he has to work, and Cassidy says that although the Russian leader's mental and physical vigor are still unimpaired, "he is more likely to take a conservative middle course, to conserve what he has already gained, and do what little more he can before he dies."

The opinion serves to minimize fears about Russian communistic evangelism; and postwar necessities in general will most likely have a tempering effect upon Russian attitude toward the capitalistic nations. But the Russian course must be carefully watched withal as Stalin is no man's fool.

Allies Ready Again On Western Front

ALL ALONG the German west front the Allied armies have swung into heavier action, now that the freeing of the Scheldt river has released the pressure at Antwerp and supplies are being built up for an all-out assault. Following a lull caused by the problem of supply, the Allies are ready again all the way from the North sea to the Swiss frontier.

The lull gave the Germans time to recover and regroup behind frontier defenses of considerable natural strength. Although the Germans have suffered heavy casualties, they are well organized.

The latest estimate from London as to German strength in the west is approximately 100 divisions, many of them composed of men of low physical stamina, but still good enough soldiers to fight spirited rear-guard actions.

Part of the Allied supply difficulties stem from continued German resistance at the French ports of Lorient, St. Nazaire and La Rochelle. The Allies have been affected seriously by inability to use the ports, but even more important is the fact that the continued German holdout in these ports has meant that large forces of French soldiers must be equipped with arms and other supplies to keep them under siege.

The Closed Shop Ban By Two of the States

FLORIDA AND ARKANSAS have written into their constitutions, by vote of the people, amendments which will bar an employer from hiring an applicant for work, or retaining an employee, because he is, or is not, a member of a labor union.

Union leaders fought these proposals bitterly. They defeated a similar proposal in California. But in Florida and Arkansas they collided with the determination of these states to legalize conditions under which they believe manufacturing industry will be encouraged.

Since the present United States supreme court has upheld federal collective bargaining legislation, and the maintenance of membership has become a fixture by compulsion under wartime powers of the administration, the question as to the constitutionality of these amendments will soon be raised with the chances that they will be upheld for the duration owing to the federal wartime laws that obtain. Their adoption, however, marks a significant development.

German Pattern For Tomorrow

AACHEN, where only the cathedral remains standing, serves as a pattern of the Germany of tomorrow. Cologne, the fourth largest city of the Reich, is in process of obliteration even before it falls to Allied arms.

In the shells and cellars of these ruined buildings, in hovels made from wreckage, the people of Germany will live during the coming winter. And they will live, in many instances, without heat and utility services and with a food supply reduced through the loss of captured territory to the extent of 7,000,000 tons.

Germany enters its sixth winter of war under conditions which hold the certainty of national suffering which will contribute in some measure to its punishment.

It is said that more rubber will be available next year, but whether the kids will get the slingshots they require has not yet been determined by any federal agency.

Free exchange of business information between the United States and France has been authorized. The funny little hats will come later.

During the first year of occupation, the Allies have spent $200,000,000 in Italy. New-found friends frequently are expensive.

Beware of a "Poker"

By MARSHALL MASLIN
I'll have black and blue spots on my chest, arms and stomach to-night.

Know why? . . . Because I've just been talking to a "poker." No, I take that back. The "poker" has been talking to ME. I did little talking. I hardly got a word in edgewise. I spent all my time ducking and dodging and retreating.

He had me on the run from the start and I couldn't get my offensive started. I was off balance from the start.

Of course you know what a "poker" is. He's a fellow who can't talk without using his hands. Nobody objects to that as long as he keeps his hands in the air, as gestures. But the "poker" uses elbows, forefingers and straight-arms to emphasize his points. He starts his talking in the center of the room and before he's finished his story he has you backed into a corner and you have to go into a clinch or fight your way out.

(Please note that I refer to the "poker" as HE. I've yet to meet a woman who pokes as she talks, and I never expect to meet one. The female "poker" doesn't exist.)

I wish I could remember what my poking friend was telling me. It's my impression that it was a very interesting story and I'd like to have heard it. . . . But my mind wouldn't stay on it, and I couldn't get the point of it. I became so fascinated by that threatening finger that I gave all my attention to wincing and retreating and stiffening my stomach muscles — and wondering if it would be against the law to assault and batter a "poker."

I should have turned on him and blasted him with half a dozen or several dozen words that would have had the enthusiastic support of millions of my fellow citizens — enough to get me elected president. I took it lying down — metaphorically speaking of course, and said not a word. I had my chance to be a hero and I muffed it! Well, what do YOU do when you meet up with a "poker"?

YES, EXPERIENCE IS A GREAT TEACHER

Action on War Labor Board Is Viewed As Deciding the Fight against Inflation

By MARK SULLIVAN
Three members of the War Labor Board have tendered their resignations, to take effect later. The resignations are regarded in some quarters as the beginning of a break-up of the board, though this need not necessarily follow.

Simultaneously there comes to a head the application of the CIO union of steel workers, and other unions, for an increase in wages going above the standard which the Labor board has maintained. The coincidence of the two events calls for review of the board's record on wages. The review need not be an obituary. But if it is confined to the record of the board on wages, omitting other aspects of the board's work, it can properly include that emphasis on a discreetly selected virtue which obituaries commonly contain. As to some other aspects of the board's record, the rule had best be, say nothing of the dead unless good.

Wage Formula Maintained
The War Labor Board, some time after it was set up, and after we entered the war, fixed a standard for wartime wages, called the "Little Steel formula." The standard for all industries, was fifteen per cent above whatever had been the level of wages in that industry on January first, 1941.

This standard the board maintained, against demand after demand from labor leaders that it be raised. True, while the board maintained its standard, it at the same time practiced several devices by which wages below the standard were increased. By "adjusting inequities," wages of large groups of workers were raised. In the case of Mr. John L. Lewis's mine workers, increases of wages were brought about by the device of granting the miners "portal to portal" pay, meaning that they were granted wages for the time spent in going from the mouth of a mine to the vein on which they were working. It should be added that part of the sweeping victory Mr. Lewis won over the administration was due, not to yielding on the part of the Labor board, but to the action or inaction of other agencies of the administration, including the president.

Inflation Checked
Maintenance of the Little Steel formula by the War Labor Board over a period of more than two years has been perhaps the largest contribution to holding the line against higher prices of goods generally against inflation. For if the board had yielded to the demand of one union, it would have been obliged to yield to others. And any general rise in wage levels would have been followed by increase in cost of goods, hence increase in price to the public. Also, any yielding by the Labor board to unions would have been followed by demands from farmers for increase in the price of crops, of food. The whole wall against inflation would have been broken, an upward spiral of prices would have been probable.

Maintenance of the Little Steel standard is now faced by the crisis which the War Labor Board has so far averted. Insistence by unions, conspicuously CIO ones, for an increase in the standard, must be granted or refused by the administration. Cynics insinuate that the decision may not be based wholly on merit or statistics, but may take into account the service which CIO rendered to the administration in the recent election.

Living Costs Variable
Theoretically, the decision is supposed to be made on the basis of whether cost of living has increased. But cost of living is an elastic thing, upon which figures can arrive at one answer or another. Much depends on what is included in cost of living. President Roosevelt, at press conferences, has delivered homilies insisting that what appears to be an increase in cost of living is in some cases not that at all. His illustration, often repeated, is that strawberries in January, or asparagus out of season, which are high in price, should not be included in cost of living.

In any event, whatever decision the administration makes will have fateful consequences. If the long stand of the Labor board against higher wages is supported, the wall against a spiral of rising prices and inflation will be maintained.

Slower Tempo Is Seen on World Peace Structure

By PAUL MALLON
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 — The tempo of coming action upon matters of such urgent concern during the campaign—so urgent in fact as to raise the hair on many a voter's head—is apt to be much slower than generally supposed.

The peace, for instance, cannot take final form before spring. State Undersecretary Stettinius already has said nothing much can be done about new negotiations until after the first of the year. He was speaking of another meeting at the undersecretary level.

Since then there has been talk of the top men getting together, and some news on that matter is likely to develop shortly. But the schedule seems to provide negotiations through the winter and announcement of final agreement in the spring—either just before or after the time Mr. Churchill told the British he expected the war to be over.

Tenth Grows Larger
The "one-tenth" of disagreement at Dumbarton Oaks, by the very delay in reaching a settlement, is assuming larger proportions, which verifies the observation carried in this column at the time that the proportion of "nine-tenths agreement" as officially announced, must have been measured by a yard stick on the words of the text, rather than the fundamental importance of the matter.

While public discussion has centered around means of holding down Germany and Japan forever, it is apparent that the peace of the supposedly new world into which we are coming will depend mainly upon the practices and relations of the victorious nations, the ones which have the arms.

That point of how to handle disputes in which the United Nations become involved was the one upon be inferior — and Hitler's secret police had no better information.

Paramount Question
The question of control of armaments, therefore, in all reality would seem to have as much to do with the question of peace, war and self defense as any other point. The problem clearly is to prevent secret rearming by anyone, Russia, the United States, Britain or possibly Mexico, the mention of Mexico not being entirely facetious in view of the development of the rocket bomb.

A formula for satisfactory inspection of armaments of every nation may be difficult to reach, in view of the historic policy of Russia.

These are important nonpolitical matters, less advertised in current popular discussions and on a somewhat more realistic basis than the campaign arguments, but likely to slow down the tempo of coming action.

Philippine Attack May Prolong War Against Japanese

By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Decision to throw the weight of our military and naval forces into the Philippines may delay the ending of the war against Japan.

The present outlook is that the Japanese-American war will terminate sometime toward the end of 1946—about two years hence—unless Japan decides for economic reasons to surrender sooner.

From a straight-out military and naval viewpoint, the Philippines operation will absorb a tremendous part of our Pacific forces. It may even delay the entry of Russia into the war against Japan—something which is by no means a certainty but which has been frequently predicted. For the problem of supply is such that with our commitment in the Philippines, we could not do both jobs right away—supply a northern route for shipping direct to the Siberian coast and take care of the MacArthur requirements in the Philippines, too.

Important for Prestige
Some day when historians coldly evaluate the decisions that were made in recent months to confine our present operations to the Philippines theater and forego the possibility of by-passing these islands and trying for a shorter ending of the war by a strike further north, the present policy will come in for considerable discussion.

Undoubtedly the recovery of the Philippines was important from a prestige viewpoint and also it was necessary to get some bases there for various purposes, but it does seem as if this would have required much less manpower and shipping if the bases to the north could have first been taken and Japanese airpower stopped nearer its source.

A part of the story has been unfolded already by Col. Alfred E. Kastner, who was with Adm. Halsey recently. Col. Kastner says that the admiral found the Japanese naval and air defenses of the Philippines weak and decided to by-pass his real objective—the island of Yap—and recommended that the Philippine attack be undertaken at once. So while we landed much earlier than obviously was intended and got a good chance to demolish half the Japanese fleet besides, the fact remains that our Pacific forces are committed now to the Philippine area and not to operations nearer Japan.

Air Bases Not Yet Ready
The Japanese are pouring airplanes into the Philippines regularly from Formosa and other points further north and it is apparent from the news dispatches that the air fields for the use of the army air forces are not yet ready. This is plain to be seen from the announcement that aviators from Adm. Halsey's fleet have been active against the Japanese ships in and around Leyte, whereas if we could have gotten airfields ready for the army fighters, these would have been in action by now.

This is not to be construed as anybody's fault because air fields abroad cannot be captured and put into use for substantial numbers of land-based fighter planes overnight. Meanwhile the Japanese are pouring reinforcements into Luzon for further attacks southward and will give the Americans quite a battle which may take several months and absorb large numbers of our men and supplies.

By-Passing Successful
The "by-pass" idea has been used so successfully by the American strategists thus far in the Pacific that it seems a pity means could not have been found for landing also at points north of the Philippines such big forces as were available to Gen. MacArthur. It is said Gen. MacArthur had his heart set on making the major operation in the Philippines and the morale value of the recovery took precedence. In fairness to his concept, however, it must be stated that the news as given out by Col.

Ohio State Again Seeks To Enter Rose Bowl Games

By HAROLD HARRISON
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15 (AP)—Ohio State university has reopened the fight to have the Western conference permit its members to play in the Rose bowl football game but an unofficial poll of conference schools was not too encouraging for supporters of the plan.

L. W. St. John, athletic director at Ohio State, disclosing today that the unbeaten and untied Bucks had received a tentative bid to the game, said a movement already had been started to have the Big Ten change its rule banning all post-season games.

He added, however, chances of changing the rule between now and the season end on Nov. 25 did not appear "too good."

But if the rule were changed and Ohio state should receive a formal bid, the Bucks would accept, he said.

Iowa said it definitely favored the proposal and Athletics Directors Guy Mackey of Purdue and Kenneth (Tug) Wilson of Northwestern also expressed approval.

It was pointed out, however, that the final decision for each school rested with its faculty representative.

There were indications that Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota might not favor the plan. Indiana declined comment.

Ohio state officials also pointed out that Michigan, another championship contender, might be in line for a bid.

St. John said it first was thought perhaps the Big Ten's wartime suspension of the freshman and other rules might be extended to include the ban on post-season games. A telegraphic poll of the faculty representatives, however, showed unanimous disapproval.

In view of that, Ohio State now is seeking to have a special meeting of the faculty Athletic committee called to reconsider the rule.

HOLLAND'S CAPITAL CITY, HAS PORT LIKE FRISCO'S

AMSTERDAM

AP Newsfeatures

Americans can best visualize the position of Amsterdam, capital of the Netherlands which may soon welcome Allied liberation, by thinking of San Francisco.

Both are important seaports located on peninsulas and facing their own hinterlands across great bays. Behind them lies the ocean.

Unlike San Francisco Bay, however, the Zuider Zee on which Amsterdam stands has lost its character as a natural harbor.

Before the war, it was being filled in while oceangoing ships steamed across the peninsula to Amsterdam through a ship canal from the North sea. Again, unlike San Francisco, the Dutch capital is on low, flat terrain. Canals form its principal streets, carry most of its commerce.

Mecca for Refugees
An ancient and scenic city of about 750,000, Amsterdam early became a European cultural center.

After growing and prospering through European wars and upheavals, Amsterdam was occupied by the Prussians in 1787, eight years later by the French who made it the capital of the Batavian republic and afterward of the kingdom of Holland.

Dutch Crown Seat
Today Amsterdam is still Holland's capital, where rulers are crowned. The Hague, 35 miles away, is the seat of government.

Unlike Rotterdam, Holland's other great port, Amsterdam was not devastated by the Germans in 1940. It was occupied, relatively intact, after the country capitulated.

Two Best Teams in Action
"Isn't it true," writes an old-time football star, "that Army and Navy will be the two best college teams that ever met in the history of American football?"

This is a pretty fair order. No one has to tell anybody that Army and Navy have two great teams. They both have about everything it takes. But before we go completely overboard, let's remember that quality of their opposition in this third year has been below par.

Neither Army nor Navy has yet to meet an old-fashioned Minnesota team under Bernie Bierman, an old-fashioned Pittsburgh team under Jock Sutherland, one of those Howard Jones Southern California teams, or one of those Michigan teams with fellows around such as Harmon and a few others.

Also neither Army nor Navy has yet faced a team that approaches the Notre Dame team of last fall, a team that ran up over 50 points against Army and Navy. I also feel that with Bertelli on hand Notre Dame was better than 30 points against Army's 1943 team which the Irish beat 26 to 0 without Bertelli.

It happens to be my extremely humble opinion that the Notre Dame team of 1943 might do better than either Army or Navy is now. For neither Army nor Navy has a Bertelli. Neither Army nor Navy has a better running back than Creighton Miller. Neither Army nor Navy has an end as dangerous in all respects as Jumbo Yonker. Nor a better set of backs, including Bob Kelly before he was hurt in the Navy game this fall—nor a better fullback than big Mello. This is just one man's opinion, but I can say that a great many coaches and veteran sports writers happen to have the same opinion.

It is easily possible that both Army and Navy teams this season could have beaten Notre Dame's 1943 outfit. I rather doubt it. I mean with Bertelli on hand.

Army and Navy for 1944
But I also doubt that two better teams than Army and Navy, taken together as they are this fall, ever met. For this time they are both great, as football teams go.

I wouldn't call either the greatest of all time. That's quite an order. I still remember Navy's fine team with Buzz Borries when they met one of Jock Sutherland's Pitt teams. It wasn't even a contest. Jock had to work hard to keep the score under 40 points.

REUNION AT FRONT
THEY MET AGAIN in the mud and blood of French battlefields—a husband and a wife! He is Lt. Richard Sunderbruch, Davenport, Ia., of the signal corps photographic staff, who was wounded in the battle of Aachen. She is a lieutenant in the army nurse corps, assigned to an evacuation hospital behind the lines. And so they met again. Signal Corps photo.

War Production Requirements Will Be Discussed
War production requirements of the Charleston, Huntington, and Clarksburg district will be discussed with J. A. Krug, chairman of the War Production Board, at a regional meeting which A. H. Cooper, district WPB manager, will attend in Cleveland, Friday, November 17.

Manager Cooper will be given a first-hand account of the urgency of critical military and essential civilian planning and production nationally and will report directly to Chairman Krug on this district's current problems.

Krug's trip to this region is his first since succeeding Donald M. Nelson as chairman of the War Production Board last August 24. He will be accompanied by representatives of the military services and the War Manpower Commission.

Vital production on some special war programs, including tires, heavy ammunition, forgings and castings and ships and planes is behind schedule and a renewed drive to lift production to meet full military requirements is being started in this region by the armed forces and the war agencies, Manager Cooper reported.

Postwar Price Control Predicted By State Director

Inflation Is Potential Danger, McCormick Warns at Meeting

Price controls will be continued for as long after the war as is necessary to avoid postwar inflation, Leo H. McCormick, state OPA director, asserted in an address at a grocer-consumer meeting held last night in the West Side School, in which he reviewed the work of the OPA since it organized three years ago.

The state director pointed out that since 1939 the average spending power per person in the state has risen eighty-six per cent, illustrating his warning that a period of inflation similar to the one following the First World War is a potential danger at the present time.

Inspectors Are Criticized

The second speaker, Harry Walker, Baltimore, secretary-manager of the IROGMA, stated that the two aspects of the OPA most criticized by retail grocers are its overstaffed legal personnel, and its failure to instruct price plan inspectors properly before sending them to survey grocery stores in search of violations of OPA regulations.

Walker explained that many of the inspectors do not know the difference between various types of fresh fruits and vegetables, stating that they accuse grocers of overcharging because they do not realize that certain types of produce have higher ceiling prices than other types.

Substituting for the two Baltimore grocers who were unable to be present, Blocher demonstrated ways in which different types of meats, fruits and vegetables can be identified by price plan inspectors.

Garlitz Named Advisor

George Garlitz, a local grocer, was appointed by McCormick to act as an advisor to the local War Price and Rationing Board on behalf of the Cumberland grocers. He will present their grievances to the board, and he will assist board officials in explaining OPA regulations to the grocers.

Garlitz will serve for one month, after which a substitute will be named to carry on the work. Garlitz, McCormick and Walker appeared on a broadcast over WTBO at 6:15 p. m. yesterday, discussing the possibility of postwar inflation.

The first citations to be awarded by the OPA since its organization in December, 1941, were presented to three Baltimore grocers at the meeting. John Blocher, president of the Independent Retail Grocers and Meat Dealers Association, one of the three grocers cited, accepted the citations from Leo H. McCormick, state OPA director, on behalf of Herman Lissey, vice president of the association, and Norman Wilson, director, who were unable to attend the meeting.

100 Persons Attend

The citations, signed by President Roosevelt and Chester Bowles, national OPA administrator, were made in recognition of the instruction which the three grocers have given to OPA price personnel in the state in connection with their surveys of grocery stores, McCormick explained.

Raymond R. Shade, president of the Independent Retail Dealers Food Association of Allegany county, presided at the meeting, which was attended by approximately 100 persons.

Guests of honor were Robert L. Stallings, a member of the local rationing board, and Shalman Katz, chief price executive for the state.

Woman Is Fined $10 In Hair-pulling Case; Motorists Pay Fines

Mrs. Opal Hare, 1901 River avenue, was fined $10 by Magistrate Frank A. Perdue in trial magistrates court yesterday on a charge of assaulting Marie E. Davis, this city. Police said the women engaged in a hair-pulling contest outside a local grocery store.

Melvin V. Hafer, Ellerslie, was fined $5.75 on a charge of passing another car on a curve on Route 40 in LaVale while Joseph P. Sereno, Baltimore, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of exceeding thirty miles an hour in LaVale. Astor Cab Adopts Flat Rate Fare

The Astor Cab Company yesterday increased its fares to any part of the city to the flat rate of fifty cents due to the increased cost of winter operation.

The flat rate went into effect at 6 a. m.

Prior to yesterday the forty cents rate was in effect from 6 a. m. to midnight while the fifty cents rate applied to the period from midnight to 6 a. m.

Company officials said the flat rate will be in effect to February 13, 1945.

Work of Red Cross Nurses Aides Is Praised by Dr. Royce Hodges

Dr. W. Royce Hodges congratulated the Red Cross Nurses Aides on their work and stressed how they add to the morale outlook of the patients as well as the assistance they give the nurses and doctors, in addressing the group at its third informal get-together and instructional meeting, last evening in the post office building.

Speaking on "Continuous Caudal Analgesia," Dr. Hodges explained its primary beginning and present use. He told something of the doctors who are sponsoring its present use, and its wide variety of uses. He also discussed the possibilities of its future use, as well as of other analgesics. An open discussion followed the talk.

Mrs. Harold K. Miller presided at the business session and appointed Mrs. Grace Wallis, chairman of the nominating committee, with Mrs. Virginia Browne and Mrs. Margaret Fulton serving with her. The election will be held at the next meeting in mid-February, which will be in the form of a luncheon. Miss Nellie Willison was appointed chairman for the luncheon, with Miss Stella Corlis and Mrs. Ethel Schusterman serving with her. Guest speakers will talk on the uses of various equipment for treatments in hospitals.

Plans were also discussed for an extra social, which will be a supper party sometime early in January at the All Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Mrs. Mary Cook was appointed chairman of arrangements. Mrs. Richard Penfield, Allegany county chairman of nurses aides, and Mrs. Lee Witherup, county chairman of the Red Cross, gave reports on the work of the late Mrs. Anne G. Brennan as a nurses aide, paying high tribute to her character and work in giving 107 hours volunteer service in two weeks at Newton D. Baker General Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va. The former also announced that nineteen members attended her funeral and served as a guard of honor. She also announced that Mrs. Nellie McKenzie, Cresaptown, is now serving at the Martinsburg hospital.

A total of 16,837 hours have been given by the group since it was organized in 1941. Mrs. Penfield reported, aides served in Miners hospital, Frostburg; Memorial and Allegany here; at Newton D. Baker, as well as at the blood bank here and at a housing station in the 1942 flood.

Mrs. Grace Wallis was commended for giving over 1,500 hours; Mrs. Edna Miller, over 1,000; and Mrs. Virginia Browne, Mrs. Helen O'Brien, Mrs. Ione Penfield and Mrs. Ivy Jones, for over 500 hours. Twenty-eight members each gave over 150 hours.

Chinese Facing Gravest Crisis

CHUNGKING, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Japanese offensive in South China, now threatening to include invasion of the hinterland province of Kweichow, confronted the Chinese tonight with the gravest military crisis in more than seven years of war.

Cabinet Spokesman P. H. Chang admitted the seriousness of Chinese reverses, but declared "we shall fight on as determinedly as ever."

The Chinese high command said the Japanese, continuing their advance with reinforcements, now were only six miles from Ishan, station on the Kwangsi-Kweichow provincial railway forty-three miles west of Luichow.

This left the Japanese some eighty miles from the border of Kweichow province, the provinces in which Kunning and Chungking itself are situated.

Gas for Winter Vacation Banned

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (AP)—To motorists toying with the idea of using supplemental gasoline rations to travel to winter resorts, the Office of Price Administration today offered this advice:

"Don't do it. Such use is illegal, OPA said, adding there will be no rations issued for return trips. In cases of misuse, the agency warned, motorists will be called before hearing commissions who have the power to revoke not only supplemental "B" and "C" rations, but basic "A" rations as well."

Treaty Ratification Plan Is Opposed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (AP)—A revived proposal to permit ratification of treaties by a majority vote of House and Senate ran into opposition today in the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

Even some members favorable to setting aside the constitutional requirement that a two-thirds majority of the Senate approve treaties opposed action at this time.

They took the view that it would be more difficult to get the Senate to vote two to one to change the rules than it would be to get the same majority to ratify a treaty.

Mercantile Bureau Dinner Postponed

Because of the illness of Albert D. Hutzler, Baltimore merchant, who was to have made the principal address, the dinner meeting scheduled by the mercantile bureau of the chamber of commerce for this evening in Central YMCA has been postponed. Harold W. Smith, chamber secretary, said yesterday.

Smith said the meeting probably will be held in January when Hutzler hopes to be able to attend.

Roland Hayes Will Sing Here Tonight

Roland Hayes, the distinguished Negro tenor, who will present a recital tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the Allegany high school auditorium, continues to conquer new fields and to add laurels to his already many distinctions.

In the last two years he has been heard from Maine to California and from the far northern reaches of Canada to a tour of Mexico, and wherever he sings he sweeps his audience off their feet with immediate overwhelming enthusiasm.

His most recent distinctions are the conferring of a degree of Doctor of Music, bestowed on him by Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, Ohio.

He was chosen as the first Negro artist in the field of music to represent his people in the seventy-fifth anniversary of the thirteenth amendment celebrated in December, 1940, in Washington, D. C., when he was heard in the concert hall of the Library of Congress.

Hayes' appearance here is sponsored by Carver high school.

Pvt. Leon Wilson, 21, formerly of Keyser, W. Va., will be taken to Fairmont, W. Va., this morning by Howard P. Loughrie, deputy United States marshal. He will be turned over to A. M. He spoke of the three shilling and the large cents of 1793 up to 1857; as well as the "flying eagle" of 1856. The Indian head penny was minted in 1860 the speaker said. A discussion period followed.

Hugh Funkhauser presided at the business session, at which it was decided to honor the past presidents at the December meeting. Routine business was also transacted. William L. Wilson introduced the speaker.

Tirpitz Escaped In '42, British Report Asserts

LONDON, Nov. 15 (AP)—The RAF divulged a two-and-a-half-year-old secret tonight, announcing that it first tried to sink the Tirpitz on the night of April 27, 1942, in a daring, intricate operation that almost succeeded.

But the RAF then did not have 12,000-pound bombs, the missiles with which an RAF force last Sunday morning turned over the Tirpitz and sank her in Tromsøe fjord, and the force was unable to determine how badly the German battleship was damaged in that first attack.

Hidden under Cliff

The Tirpitz then nestled under a towering cliff in Poetten fjord, an inlet of Trondheim fjord.

On the cliffs and all around the inlet there were powerful anti-aircraft batteries. Nearby was a fighter airport, and materials for a dense smokescreen surrounded the Tirpitz.

The Tirpitz herself had anti-aircraft guns and lying two miles north of her in Lo fjord were the heavy cruiser Prince Eugen and the pocket battleship von Scheer with their anti-aircraft guns.

British Bombers Attack

A Norwegian air expert studied the weather and gave the word for a fleet of Lancasters and Halifaxes to take off. His predictions were perfect and the fleet went through clouds over the North sea and found clear sky over the target.

The bombers attacked her not only with armor-piercing bombs then available but with mines and depth charges which were dropped on the cliff and rolled down between the shore and the ship in an attempt to damage her below the waistline.

FDR, Churchill, Stalin, DaGaulle and Chiang May Meet in Moscow

PARIS, Nov. 15 (AP)—French officials speculated tonight on the possibility that President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and President Chiang Kai-Shek might attend a major United Nations conference in Moscow soon, following an announcement today that Gen. Charles De Gaulle would leave shortly for the Soviet capital.

De Gaulle will be accompanied on the trip by his foreign minister, Georges Bidault. He accepted promptly the invitation from Premier Stalin.

A major conference, it was pointed out, would require French representation, in view of the wide range of problems in which France is vitally interested.

Foremost among such problems is the settlement to be imposed on Germany.

Hannegan Likely To Succeed Walker

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Post-Dispatch said today it has learned Robert E. Hannegan, chairman of the Democratic National Committee soon will be appointed postmaster general to succeed Frank C. Walker.

Hannegan, a St. Louisan, will retain his committee chairmanship, the story said, and added: "It is known Walker has been anxious for some time to surrender his cabinet duties and only awaited the end of the election campaign to tender his resignation."

Dies Committee May Quit Jan. 3

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (AP)—House Republicans decided today not to seek continuance of the Dies committee by the next Congress.

Their decision, and the known apathy of Democratic leaders towards the committee headed by Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex.), made it improbable that the group would operate after next Jan. 3, when its current tenure expires.

educated in country schools and Southern Iowa Normal. Subsequently he studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1892. Three years later he became Washington county attorney (Iowa). In 1922 he went to the Senate and immediately allied himself with the farm bloc and the senatorial group which held the balance of power because of independent action.

Friend of Russia

Strong in his convictions Brookhart was an early advocate of recognition of Russia and of co-operative farming. Although a Republican he opposed the Harding and Coolidge administration on some legislation, and in 1924 when he sought re-election and apparently won by a close vote his opponent contested it and the Senate finally decided the election in favor of Daniel F. Steck, the Democratic candidate.

Undaunted by the setback Brookhart ran for the Senate again in 1926 and won. He remained a senator six years.

He again sought the Republican senatorial nomination in 1936. Unsuccessful he opened a law office in Washington, D. C., and remained there until 1943.

War or No War, Fat Men Demand Suits That Will Allow Comfort

By TOM REEDY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (AP)—War or no war, said Felix Edward Hebert today, it's time the fat man is allowed to take a deep breath without busting a galus.

The congressman from Louisiana carried his campaign for adequate apparel for outside men—and women—to the Office of Price Administration (A) on behalf of a constituent and (B) for himself.

The constituent, Edward J. Foster of New Orleans, wrote the honorable Hebert:

"It is impossible to buy trousers with a waist line of forty-eight or fifty or shirts seventeen and a half. The manufacturers have stopped making them. I understand, and if this is true, instructions or orders should be given to the manufacturers to make the larger sizes."

"My wife and daughter have the same difficulty."

"The stout people in this country must have clothing or join with the nudists."

"That does it," Hebert exclaimed. He dictated this letter to Price Administrator Chester Bowles:

"I am putting in my two bits worth because I think the man has a just kick. I am the voice of experience speaking. I am six feet two inches and weigh 210 pounds more or less and require a forty-four long model suit. Just try to find a suit that will fit me from a store rack."

"Clothing men tell me the manufacturers are pretty smart hombres. They get more

German Decree

"hell," wholesale shelving of the army flag for the Nazi banner, and the distribution of promotions and decorations most liberally to the SS and other proved Nazi officers.

And now, according to a western front report from Associated Press Correspondent Franklin Barker, an order has been issued to the German army directing all soldiers to shoot anyone—officers or even close friends—who tries to surrender.

The army political decree was broadcast by the Transocean agency was called "valid from Oct. 1" and purportedly was signed by Adolf Hitler.

But the fuhrer himself still remained personally invisible and inaudible as the great "where's Hitler?" mystery spun along in this and other European capitals.

Neutrals To Get

Switzerland—long aloof from Europe's wars—appeared in a somewhat better position for claiming a peace table seat, partly because of her established position of neutrality, partly because of her service as an international go-between.

And since you buy electricity by the kilowatt hour, you should know what you pay for. Even though you can't see a kilowatt hour, there's no mystery about it. You buy enough pounds of meat for a meal—you buy enough kilowatt hours to run your electric appliances. It's that simple. But with cost the similarity ends. Unlike other things the cost of electricity has been steadily coming down. And here's proof! Each pile of pennies below represents the AVERAGE cost of a kilowatt hour in the year shown under the pile. You can see for yourself just how much the cost of electricity has been cut.

Court of Appeals Reverses Ruling In School Case

Upholds Demurrer against Mineral County Education Officials

By LUKE McDOWELL

KEYSER, Nov. 15.—The Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia ruled Tuesday that an indictment against Paul C. Rouzer, H. L. Drake and Luke McDowell brought in the circuit court of Mineral county was defective, and that the demurrer to the indictment should have been sustained.

The indictment alleged that during the years 1937 to 1939 Rouzer, then superintendent of Mineral county schools; Drake, then manager of the Keyser high school book store, and McDowell, then clerk to the Mineral county board of education, failed to keep or, if kept had concealed, records relating to the purchase and sale of books in the Keyser high school book store.

The indictment was demurred to and argued by counsel before Judge Robert McV. Drane of the Mineral County Circuit Court who held the indictment was good. The case was certified to the supreme court of appeals on the sufficiency of the indictment.

The case was heard by the higher court on September 19, when E. L. Tyler, for Rouzer, H. G. Shores for Drake and E. A. See for McDowell, argued that the indictment was defective.

In reversing the ruling of the lower court the court of appeals held that a board of education had no lawful right to operate a book store, and that the statute under which the three were indicted had no application where a board of education engaged in a ultra vires transaction, and further held that the indictment was not sufficient, even though it had related to an authorized act of the board of education.

FOXHOLE SHOPPING'S EASY--- ALL YOU NEED IS A BOOK

MALE ORDER—GI shopping at this post exchange on Bougainville is simple. Soldiers pick out gifts from a catalog and the army exchange service does the rest.

Available to navy, marine and coast guard personnel as well as army men, this special Christmas service is a part of the year-round mail order activities of the army exchange service, which operates under special services. Manufacturers of items selected for the Christmas catalogue agreed to reserve certain quantities for G. I. orders, and scaled prices considerably below department store levels.

Most popular on G. I. Joe's gift list are jewelry, compacts, cosmetics, perfume, children's toys and men's furnishings. Candy ranks high, too, and solved one soldier's gift problem neatly. He just send twenty-four boxes of candy to twenty-four different girls in twenty-four different cities.

The Christmas section was established in 1942, when 80,000 gifts were ordered by army men. This year 1,000,000 orders are expected.

From then on, the exchange takes over. His order — along with as many as 25,000 received daily in New York — is processed within forty-eight hours, and sent to the manufacturer, who mails out the gifts with special "Do not open until Christmas" stickers.

Robert Cummings from the screen, as guest of the CBS suspense thriller at 8, will do "The Dead of Night." It's a murder mystery.

In place of Norman Cordon, Jojo in the "Topknot" concert on the Blue at 11:30 will be John Barone, baritone, and Martha Lip-ton, soprano. . . Viva America, the CBS 11:30 concert, is displaying what it announces as the premiere performance of a new beguine, "Reverberates" or "Memories" by M. L. Sandoval, Guatemalan pianist-composer. The soloist guest is to be Rina de Toledo, Puerto Rico soprano.

Employers Receive Tax Return Forms

This year many employees will be able to use their withholding receipts to make their annual income tax returns, Richard J. Stakem, division chief of the local bureau of internal revenue office, said yesterday.

Copies of Form W-2, on which such returns will be made, have been mailed to local employers by the Baltimore office and will be distributed to employees after January 1, 1945, Stakem said.

All persons whose 1944 income was $500 or more must file an income tax return with the local office not later than March 15, 1945. Returns should be filed as soon after January 1 as possible, in order to facilitate handling.

Withholding receipts may be used by persons whose wages from which no tax was withheld, plus income from dividends or interest, is not in excess of $100 for 1944, and if the total of such wages and income plus total of wages earned in 1944, is less than $5,000, Stakem said.

If the total is more than $5,000, Form 1040 must be used in filing.

out the return. Withholding receipts may be obtained from employers, and Form 1040 may be obtained from employers, the local office of internal revenue, banks or the local post office.

Tax-exempt income, such as mulling-out pay, the first $1,500 of military pay, government contributions to monthly family allowances, and social security benefits, should not be included in the total income figure.

Principal changes in the rules for claiming dependents permit exemption for a dependent close relative over 18 and prohibit exemption for a dependent with $500 or more income.

If the withholding receipt form is used as a return, it should be mailed to the local collector, who will give credit for tax already paid and send a bill or a refund check for any difference, Stakem said.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Clara McGee, who died one year ago, November 15, 1943.
You are gone but not forgotten.
Never shall our memories fade.
We will roam and scatter flowers
Around the grave that God has made.
When the evening shadows are falling
And we are sitting all alone,
In our hearts there comes a longing
For only dear Mother could come home.
But someday we hope to meet her
Over on the Golden Shore,
Where our Father Who Ait in Heaven
Will give us a resting place forevermore.

Navy Chaplain To Be Campaign Dinner Speaker

Veteran of Naval Operations Will Come Here on Monday

Lt. Herbert William Olander, a navy chaplain and veteran of the invasion of North Africa as well as many of the major landings in the European theater of action from January 1943 to April 1944, will be the speaker at the dinner meeting in Central YMCA Monday evening that will officially open the United campaign of the National War Fund in Allegany county and the Cumberland Community Chest for $15,000.

Enthusiasm Over Speaker

The war fund and chest organizations have featured outstanding speakers at their campaign kick-off dinners in the past two years and officials said they feel very fortunate in getting a speaker of Lt. Olander's caliber to come here. Last year Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor made the principal address and the year before Sen. Millard E. Tydings was the speaker.

Lt. Olander, who was ordained in the ministry in June 1942, was pastor of Second Congregational church, Palmer, Mass., from 1940 to 1942, entering the naval chaplaincy May 12, 1942.

Helped Rescue Survivors

At the time of the African invasion, Lt. Olander was returning from burial services ashore when the Scott was torpedoed and he participated in the rescue of survivors of that ship as well as those from other stricken vessels in the area. In January of the following year, Lt. Olander was attached to the U. S. S. Boise and served aboard that vessel until April of this year and during his service aboard that ship engaged in many major landings in the European theater of action.

Since May 26, Lt. Olander has been stationed at the naval training center at Bainbridge.

Born May 26, 1904 at Bayonne, N. J., Lt. Olander received his education in the schools of Cambridge, Mass., and East Providence, R. I., and subsequently received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Maine in 1939. He received his bachelor of divinity degree from Bangor Theological seminary, Bangor, Me., in 1942.

Lt. Olander is married and has two children, a boy and a girl.

Stewart Cort To Speak

Another speaker at the dinner meeting, scheduled to start at 6:15 p. m. and end promptly at 8 o'clock, will be Stewart J. Cort, general manager of the Sparrows Point division of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, state National War Fund chairman and member of the national committee of 100 of the National War Fund.

Having completed a successful campaign for two and one-half million dollars in Baltimore, Cort will be a special guest at the meeting here and will speak briefly.

Preceding the main address by Lt. Olander campaign leaders will discuss in brief statements essential phases of the drive.

Edmund S. Burke, general chairman of the campaign, is expected to preside at the meeting which will bring together all members of the campaign organization, workers and leaders, to launch the countywide drive.

Man Wed in 1907 Sues for Divorce

Accuses Wife of Desertion in 1942; Four Other Suits Filed

Married November 14, 1907, James J. Phillips, Sr., now of Baltimore, filed suit in circuit court Tuesday for an absolute divorce from Mrs. Mary Estelle Phillips, of Lonaconing, charging that she deserted him sometime in 1942. He is represented by Horace P. Whitworth.

William Theodore Innes seeks a divorce from Mrs. Dorothy Innes after being married July 15 of this year and living together until a few weeks ago. He is represented by William C. Walsh.

Charging desertion, Mrs. Mary L. Shaffer seeks an absolute divorce from William D. Shaffer. They were married February 12, 1937, and have no children. Associate Judge William A. Huster ordered Kendrick to pay his wife $60 monthly as alimony during the litigation. She is represented by Baron.

Soldier Is Held

Pvt. Francis D. Largent, 25, of 109 Elder street, is being held in the city jail for army authorities. He was arrested yesterday by Sgt. Harold Fleming, MP, at the request of Camp Burner, N. C. authorities. The local soldier has been AWOL since November 5 when he left his station without authority. MP's said.

Three Elks Receive Honorary Life Memberships from Local Lodge

Mosner Makes Official Visit; Fighter Class of Sixteen Initiated

Initiation of the "Fighter" class composed of sixteen members, presentation of honorary life memberships to three members, and the visitation of John H. Mosner, district deputy exalted ruler of the Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia Elks Association, featured the meeting of Cumberland Lodge, No. 63, B.P.O. Elks here last night.

Former Judge D. Lindsey Sloan, past exalted ruler of the local lodge and also a past district deputy exalted ruler, presented the honorary life memberships to Matthew B. Coffey and David Miller, who have served the lodge many years as trustees. Perry A. Nicklin, past exalted ruler of the lodge, the third member who was to receive the honorary life membership, was unable to attend, being a patient in Johns Hopkins hospital for an eye operation. His membership was presented to John H. Mosner, as proxy for Nicklin, and he in turn will present the card to Nicklin.

Mosner Outlines Work

Mosner in his talk expressed his appreciation at the fine attendance on the night of his official visit and outlined in detail projects which the grand lodge is carrying on, asserting that rehabilitation of returning servicemen who are Elks is one of the principal projects of Elksdom this year.

Retail Clerks To Mobilize for War Bond Drive

Third Army To Function Here; Teubner Named Committee Chairman

Employees of Cumberland retail stores are being mobilized for "America's Third Army" for the greatest war-bond selling campaign ever undertaken here, according to C. William Teubner, of Rosenberg Brothers, Inc., who was named chairman of the program committee at a meeting yesterday of the Mercantile Bureau of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

Teubner pointed out that "America's Third Army" will function in Cumberland as an integral part of the Sixth War Loan drive which will be inaugurated on Monday, November 20. Allegany county's quota in the forthcoming drive is $2,700,000.

In a resolution adopted by a committee of retailers on August 15 in Chicago, it was recommended that the entire retail industry enlist its five million employees in the Third Army Plan. The Third Army derived its name from the following: The First Army is on the fighting front. The Second Army is on the production front. The Third Army—consisting of retail employees—is on the bond selling front.

Participating employees will also start with the rank of private in the Third Army. Sale of a $25 war bond entitles the clerk to promotion to the rank of private first class. Others will be stepped up in rank depending on the amount of bonds they sell, as follows:

Corporal, $75; sergeant, $150; first sergeant, $200; second lieutenant, $250; first lieutenant, $300; captain, $400; major, $500; lieutenant colonel, $750; colonel, $1,000; brigadier general, $2,000; major general, $3,000; lieutenant general, $4,000 and general $5,000. Citations from the United States Treasury Department will also be presented to employees of the Third Army in recognition of Series "E" war bond sales performances.

Tags carrying Third Army insignia will be furnished to each store and will be presented to employees as they rise in rank. The insignia have been purchased by the United States Treasury.

Must Take Pledge

The Retailers' Third Army is composed of all employees of retail stores, who must take a pledge to sell at least $300 worth of bonds during the campaign. They are then members of the army. Each store accepts an over-all quota equal to $300 multiplied by the number of employees. The Treasury department citation goes to each member who has sold at least $300 worth of bonds.

Teubner's committee includes Thomas P. Conlon, Mrs. Aurelia Becker, John R. Wilkinson, Harry B. Williams, Nat. Guggenheimer, Mrs. McDonald, Bradley S. Kehoe, W. Morton Perkins and Harold W. Smith, secretary.

A meeting will be held tomorrow for the purpose of appointing block captains in the drive.

Surgeon Declares Control of Pain Is Progressing

Discusses Caudal and Spinal Anesthesia at Lions Meeting

Pointing out that more progress has been made in the development of pain control in the past two years than in the preceding 100 years, Dr. W. Royce Hodges, Cumberland surgeon, told members of the Lions club at their meeting in Central YMCA yesterday that caudal and spinal anesthesia and the use of pentothal as an intravenous injection will contribute considerably toward making people comfortable and safe when they are sick.

In discussing the use of caudal anesthesia in allaying the pains of childbirth, Dr. Hodges said that stories of complete paralysis and insanity developing from the use of it are not true.

Used Successfully Here

He asserted that caudal anesthesia has been used successfully on 550 persons in Cumberland and results in the labor of childbirth with no pains.

Development of this type anesthesia, Dr. Hodges explained, came about largely as a result of the efforts of two physicians in public health work and said that despite a "lot of cock and bull stories," the Mayo clinic has a record of 25,000 cases in which caudal anesthesia was used without a fatality.

This method has come to the front because its pain-allaying power is so dramatic for the person suffering, for those watching and because of considerable lay publicity, he said.

Great Advance

In 1939, a Philadelphia surgeon began experimenting with spinal anesthesia on monkeys and later on human beings. Dr. Hodges said. He added that a needle was inserted into a sac about the spinal chord which contains spinal fluid. The area, he said, becomes insensitive and by the end of 1939 the surgeon was able to report sixty-five cases. Later, 2,000 cases were reported without a failure and Dr. Hodges said this anesthetic probably will be one of the greatest advances to make people comfortable when they are sick.

The use of pentothal, Dr. Hodges related, makes a person fully unconscious in five to ten seconds and causes no unpleasantness. He pointed out that although it cannot take the place of some anesthetic it is popular with patients because all they feel is a pin prick; they wake up in bed. Marvelous results have been obtained, he declared, in using pentothal in the treatment of servicemen suffering from exhaustion neuroses.

WLB AUTHORIZES WAGE BOOSTS FOR ROSENBAUM WORKERS

Wage increases for all selling, non-selling and service employees of Rosenberg Brothers, Inc., has been authorized by the National War Labor Board as a result of eighteen months of negotiations by the company.

Under the War Labor Board's order, the store is permitted to raise wages and salaries of employees to about seventy per cent of the amount requested.

Flat increases to employees under the board's order are not permitted, but each employee's past wages and commissions earned were studied individually by the board and the amount of increase for each employee was determined by the amount of wages or salary plus commissions, previously earned.

The wage and salary increases will go into effect immediately, and back pay retroactive to July 1, 1944, will be paid employees about December 20.

Former Allegany Teacher, Wounded In Rabaul Raid, Gets Purple Heart

Broader Safety Program Advised For McNitt Mine

Better ventilating facilities, improved timbering, elimination of ignition hazards and a broader safety program are among the major recommendations repeated by a federal coal mine inspector for the small McNitt No. 2 mine of the McNitt Coal Company, at Midlothian, this county. Dr. F. R. Savers, director of the Bureau of Mines, has reported to the Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes.

Examined for the first time in December 1943, the seventy-ton-a-day mine was revisited a few weeks ago by a government inspector.

Corrective Measures Listed

Although crediting the twenty-seven workers and officials with some improvements since the previous inspection, Federal Inspector J. C. Davis again noted several sub-standard practices and outlined corrective measures which included replacement of open-flame cap lamps with permissible electric cap lamps, prohibition of underground smoking, use of permissible firing units with explosives instead of flame-lighted fuses, tests for explosive gas at least once monthly, better quality air in working places, cutting or shearing the coal before it is blasted, surface installation of the main ventilating fan, wider use of safety apparel, precautions in handling blasting materials and adequate fire protection.

The federal inspector commended the production of 14,787 tons of coal in nine months this year without a disabling injury, a safety record much better than that of 1943 when the line produced 12,422 tons of coal with six accidents, or 3,737 tons of coal per injury.

Improvements Noted

Butterments effected since the initial government examination were credited to company initiative, employee co-operation, compliance with orders of state inspectors, and the adoption of recommendations of bureau personnel. These included some changes in timbering, safer storage of explosives, continuous operation of the main ventilating fan, approved installation of the weigh office coal-burning stove, better wiring for the ventilating fan motor, and increased supervision in working places.

Roll your own!

That's become the slogan of Cumberland's cigarette smokers judging from the record-breaking sale of combination roller-cases in Cumberland stores within the past several weeks.

With "No Cigarettes" signs adorning the counters of most stores there has been an unprecedented rush for the metal inclosed rollers which also serve as a cigarette case. It's very simple to roll your own with a roller which comes in a cardboard box accompanied by two packages of cigarette tobacco and sufficient paper to turn out approximately fifty neatly rolled fags. A nationally known cigarette manufacturing firm has placed the roller and its accessories on the market at a reasonable price and as one local tobacconist reported: "They're selling like hotcakes on a frosty morning." In fact the rush for rollers has been so great that the most stores report sellouts and the placing of orders for more.

A proprietress of a well known local tobacco store, yesterday reported that the rush for rollers started in earnest a month ago and during the period she has sold ninety dozen or a total of 1,080.

"I never saw anything like it," she remarked. "My supply is exhausted and I've ordered more."

A Baltimore street bowling parlor manager said he has sold five dozen rollers in the past ten days and he could sell almost as many in a single day at the present time as the demand increases due to the more acute shortage of packaged cigarettes.

The slogan is—roll your own—provided you can purchase a roller. Like cigarettes, they are also becoming a scarce article.

State Police Nab Youths Who Fleed Training School

Are Accused of Auto Theft and Breaking and Entering

Two youths who admitted to state police that they took part in the escape of a number of inmates from the Maryland Training School for Boys at Loch Raven early Tuesday night were arrested here at 12:30 p. m. yesterday on charges of stealing an automobile from a Glen Arm, Md., toy factory parking lot and breaking and entering the Webster Motor Company garage on York road, Baltimore, following their escape. State Trooper A. M. Spioch said last night.

Spioch added that another youth was arrested with them and also is accused of breaking and entering the garage. He said the third youth did not take part in the escape or the theft of the automobile.

The trio, identified as Billy Edward Beal, 16, formerly of Eckhart, near Cumberland; James P. Carr, 17, of Baltimore, the escaped youths, and Robert Lee Martin, 16, also of Baltimore, had a brush with Baltimore police at the York road garage, the trooper said, and later decided to visit Beal's mother in Froburg.

From Glen Arm Spioch related, the youths drove to Baltimore where Plitt met Martin, a former inmate of St. Mary's Industrial school, Baltimore, and asked him if he wanted to take a ride.

Martin replied in the affirmative, Plitt and Cubbage left the car shortly afterwards and he and the other youths drove to the company tool factory where they stole a Plymouth coupe from a parking lot, the trooper reported.

Stop to Sleep

Subsequently, Carr and Martin decided to come to Froburg with Beal to see his mother, police said, and stopped just east of Hagerstown to sleep and replace the license plates on the stolen car with dealer's tags that were taken from the Baltimore garage. They arrived in Froburg about 7:30 a. m. yesterday.

Spioch said the youths stole three packages of cigarettes from the garage, about ten gallons of gasoline, a flashlight and other small accessories. Some of the articles, he said, were taken from automobiles they ransacked at the garage. He added that Carr was the driver of the automobile at all times.

All three of the youths are held in the county jail here pending further disposition of the case.
